John C. Fremont
Moore Mill on Link River
Where There Is Water - There is Life

Photo: Bureau of Reclamation
Construction of the Klamath Project
KLAMATH RIVER BASIN COMPACT
BETWEEN THE STATES OF
OREGON AND CALIFORNIA

Ratified by
STATE OF OREGON, APRIL 17, 1957
(Chapter 142, Oregon State Laws, 1957)
and
STATE OF CALIFORNIA, APRIL 17, 1957
(Chapter 113, California Statutes, 1957)

Consented to by
THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS
ACT OF AUGUST 30, 1957 (71 STAT. 497)

Effective September 11, 1957
J.C. BOYLE DAM

Location: About five miles west of Keno.
Purpose: Hydroelectric power.
Power capacity: 98 megawatts.*
Fish ladder: Yes.
Under hydro agreement: The dam would be removed.
Reservoir: J.C. Boyle Reservoir (Topsy Recreation Site).

J.C. BOYLE POWERHOUSE
Bring the Salmon Home
Remove the Klamath Dams